by Redirack

Under the terms of the current Building Regulations Legislation governing Fire Safety, Approved Document B, Redirack may be required to install fire protection to your mezzanine floor.

Inspectors

We are in regular contact with Building Regulations Approved Inspectors and will be happy to consult with them on your behalf regarding your scheme should you wish us to do so.

As a guide only, if your mezzanine meets all of the following requirements then it may not require one hour fire protection :

Exceptions :

- single tier
- storage only
- low use by personnel (a guide would be less than 10)
- no public access
- Less than 20m x 20m in plan
- Less than half of the overall building area
- Open above and below to the main building space
- Fitted with automatic fire warning and detection system complying with BS5839:Part1
